The worsening of European debt crisis has led to financial market in turmoil, at time like this, companies tend to be more conservative or passive in disclosing information, and our Investor Relations also faces this challenges. Despite the challenges, we will continue to convey transparent, fair and complete information to investors for we believe “proactive communications” is the only way to reflect true value of the company especially at time like this. To accomplish our vision to become first-class regional financial institution, we will endeavor to reach and sustain internationally recognized investor relations standards.
